How Supporting NC Ag Agents in Their Effort to Showcase NC Agriculture Will Benefit Your Organization

1. The NACAA conference is a unique opportunity to showcase North Carolina's history, heritage and agricultural products. All of us benefit when people from across the country see the breadth and diversity of North Carolina agriculture.
2. Your organization will appear in the conference program and sponsor recognition brochure which can include contact information for your company. This is great exposure for companies that do business either inside or outside NC.
3. You will be recognized for your support of NACAA, NC Cooperative Extension and North Carolina agriculture at our annual meeting during the program and through signage during the week.
4. Your organization will also be in front of NACAA members across NC as well as NCSU administrators and members of allied agricultural organization.
5. Contributors at or above the platinum level may sponsor named "Signature events during the meeting, and be listed as a sponsor of the NC Agriculture video. There are possibilities of making presentations to agents during the conference and all will receive benefits listed at lower levels of sponsorship.
6. Contributions at the Gold level or above will be invited to the VIP Dinner, have access to the NACAA's mailing list of agents across the nation and may set up a complimentary trade show booth.
7. Donations are tax deductible.
